

PLAYING WITH GUNS

we've lain waste to the world and we'd do it again
'cause it's easier for us to get along with the dire than fight for an end heartbeats for the reckless nights you'll end up as one 'cause there was no way to see what kind of pair you could be 'cause you're playing with guns just wanted to fire
turned into a liar
i'll wait like a spider just to be beside her we brought us out again all patched up and spent and i'll try to keep it down as you tip toe around but it leaks out my chest if you want something else just be brave and tell
'cause it's always understood if you treat yourself good don't leave it in black just wanted some fire
gave up my entire world
don't you worry your little head about me i'll be fine... you got what you wanted here's what you deserve well that's too kind...
