

THE UNIVERSE IS A BULLY

it looks like you got beat up by the universe you tremble white and leave your red all where you were love the ones around don't go chasing down so you can save your breath and breathe your life for all that need it guide me through all your problems i will mend them but i won't solve them though you need me now you're gonna have to find your way out i wanted you but i won't keep you for myself i'd take you too if you just help me help yourself bring me through your crowd that's in and all around so we can find your peace and let it out for all to see it

guide me through all your problems
you're gonna have to find your way out...

i could follow you through everything so i can see what it all means to me or i can stay so far off in the dark the only place you'll find me is in your heart...
